DISABLED PARKING PROTEST

• Millie Hogg, 15 (centre), mum Karen Hogg, and aunt Nina Watson at the bays in Station Road

A DIDCOT teenager has launched a petition urging shopping centre developers to rethink its parking plan for disabled residents.

A £50million phase two development of the Orchard Centre was approved by a South Oxfordshire District Council planning committee last Wednesday.

The plans - which include 24 extra shops, six restaurants, and a gym - would also see three disabled parking spaces in Station Road by Vue Cinema moved, to make way for a new bus route.

Nine new disabled parking spaces are included in the scheme, but 15-year-old Millie Hogg said they would be further away from the centre.

Her mum Karen Hogg, 44, has multiple sclerosis and her aunt, Nina Watson, 47, has rheumatoid arthritis and fibromyalgia.

Both use the disabled bays.

Millie, a Didcot Girls' School pupil, from Kynaston Road, said: "I think it's disgusting that their spots will be taken away, it's completely ridiculous."

Timing shocks mum of murdered teenager

ON the day Jayden Parkinson's mum was meant to be celebrating her grandchild's first birthday, she instead had to deal with the news that four police staff have been referred to misconduct proceedings in relation to the investigation surrounding her daughter's murder.

Thames Valley Police (TVP) confirmed on Monday three police officers and a member of staff will be subject to internal misconduct processes.

Jayden, 17, from Didcot, was strangled to death in a jealous rage by 23-year-old ex-boyfriend Ben Blakeley in a field near Upton on December 3 in 2013.

She was missing for 15 days before her body was found hidden in the grave of Blakeley's uncle.

Jayden's mum Samantha Shrewsbury told the Guardian: "I'm in total shock, I'm completely taken back. I should be celebrating my granddaughter being born into this world but instead I'm having to deal with this.

"I had no idea it was going to be made public today."

Blakeley, from Reading, was jailed for her murder in 2014.

The court heard he killed her after she went to meet him and tell him she was pregnant with his baby.

TVP revealed they were unaware it was around Jayden's due date, and declined to comment further on the timing.

Police announced the staff have been referred to misconduct proceedings following the Independent Police Complaints Commission's (IPCC) investigation into the police's work on the case.

They are investigating the police's response to Jayden being reported missing and their contact with Jayden before she went missing in December 2013.

The matter was referred by the police to IPCC on December 14 in 2013 and an independent investigation began.

Ms Shrewsbury admitted the police did 'everything they possibly could' when the missing persons investigation became a murder investigation.

These misconduct proceedings will take the form of meetings in which a panel, usually of three, decide whether the staff member is guilty of misconduct.

The hearings can take days or weeks, and a date for them to start has not yet been set.

TVP said the internal process could result in a final written warning, but no-one faces dismissal as it is an investigation into misconduct and not gross misconduct.

A brass plaque and a wooden bench are set to be unveiled where Jayden was found in Didcot's All Saints Church graveyard in her memory this Saturday.

Ms Shrewsbury added: "I do not know if I will be able to attend the ceremony, with all this going, it would be a real struggle."

Jayden is now buried in St Martin's Church in Cheriton, close to her former hometown of Folkestone in Kent.

Ms Shrewsbury opened a memorial garden in Didcot's Foxhall Road in April this year in memory of Jayden.

OXON: First Great Western (FGW) rail workers are to stage strikes affecting services across the Oxfordshire region over the August Bank Holiday weekend.

The Rail, Maritime and Transport Union (RMT) announced the news yesterday that a strike is to be held over threats to jobs, services and safety due to the introduction of new Hitachi Intercity Trains.

FGW rail workers held a 48-hour strike last month over the same dispute.

Union members, guards and platform attendants will walk out for 72 hours from Midnight on August 29 to August 31.

Woman dies in Turkey crash

ABINGDON: An Abingdon woman died following a car accident in Turkey, an inquest heard on Tuesday.

Elizabeth Worsell, 60, of Ock Street died in Yasam hospital in Antayla, Turkey on July 21.

An inquest into her death was opened at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road and postponed until January 6.

Oxfordshire Coroner Darren Salter read out cause of death as pulmonary embolism due to deep vein thrombosis.

Mr Salter read out evidence that the car Ms Worsell was travelling in was struck by another car that ran a red light.

Oxford author defiant in face of schools 'injustice'

AN OXFORD author who is also his wife's carer has launched a petition after Oxfordshire County Council said they would not change school admission rules to allow their daughter to go to their nearest school.

Ian Johnstone's daughter Ella, three, was rejected from their first choice school and offered a place at one four miles away.

His petition now has almost 2,500 signatures.

Mr Johnstone, 42, said: "We have been overwhelmed by the support we have received for the petition. We now have more than 2,250 signatures from people who share our shock at the inflexibility of the admissions rules."

In April, Mr Johnstone and wife Emily Johnstone, 38, applied to send Ella to St Andrews Church of England Primary School – half a mile from their Headington home.

But Ella was offered Cutteslowe Primary School.

Mr Johnstone told the Guardian: "The county council has responded via local media to say that they have no plans to change the rules because they work well for the majority and because it would be too difficult to define disability."

Mr Johnstone has written letters to all of Oxfordshire's county councilors asking for them to lobby for changes, as well as the Secretary of State for Education, Nicky Morgan.

New pub opening this month at Milton Gate

A NEW Harvester pub and restaurant at Milton Gate is to open in just over one week.

It is due to open on Tuesday, August 18, off the A310 at Milton Interchange on the edge of Didcot.

Didcot town councillor Bill Service said: "It's really good to have a pub spring up in the area due to the number of pubs that have been shutting down in Didcot.

"It will be great as it will provide more choice for residents and offers them another option.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I for one will be definitely visiting the new place myself.

"It can only help entice people to come in to the centre of town."

The restaurant will seat 160 guests and has brought 50 jobs to the area.

Milton Park business park owner MEPC is currently developing the land near the A34 Milton Interchange.

A drive-through Costa Coffee and car showrooms Vauxhall Bellinger and Ridgeway Volkswagen opened earlier this year.

Harvester's regional director David Hoyland said: "Bringing a new Harvester to Didcot is really exciting for the brand and the team is gearing up for the opening in a couple of weeks.

"We're thrilled to be providing the people of Didcot with our service."

James Dipple, CEO at MEPC, who run Milton Park, said: "We are delighted to hear the Harvester will be opening at the end of this month.

"Harvester will provide the local community with jobs and it will be a significant addition to the area."

Mr Dipple also said MEPC is planning to welcome more new businesses on the Milton Gate site with 3.33 acres of land remaining for sale.

Three Didcot pubs could be set to close with plans to raze The Crown in Queensway and replace it with five houses given planning permission in June.

South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) also granted permission to demolish The Sprat in Hagbourne Road to make way for six new homes.

However no work has begun to demolish the pub and it is still open for business as normal.

The future of The Prince of Wales in Station Road opposite Didcot Parkway station is also in doubt as it could be demolished as part of SODC's multi-million pound proposals for a new Didcot Gateway Development.

But the pub's owners, Greene King, have vowed not to sell it.

Teenager launches petition against disabled bay plans

• From front page

She added: "A lot of disabled people are going to be really affected by it and this is something which I feel I've had to push through myself.

"Moving the spots does not help them, it means they will struggle to get into the places they need to get to and it will take them 10 minutes just to get there."

A spokesman for the developers Hammerson said: "The new parking space will be in close proximity to the centre amenities, at Station Road car park and the main centre car park."

The Station Road car park is to be built on unused land between Sainsbury's car park and Station Road."

Millie's petition has collected 132 signatures in the six days since it launched last Thursday.

South Oxfordshire District Council (SODC) member Bill Service said: "I understand that this is quite an emotional issue for the family involved, but there are lots of other areas for disabled parking in Didcot.

"There's loads of spaces on the Broadway, and the developers aren't completely depriving them of spots."

There are disabled parking spots available on the Broadway and in the car park on Edinburgh Drive.

Mrs Hogg believes these spots are too far away or always too full to use.

She said: "It would be just too far away for us to walk.

"We're only just trying to enable ourselves and these plans do not allow for us to do that."

Didcot Town Council leader Charlie Robertson gave his support for the petition and said: "As members of my immediate family have disabilities, I fully understand that practical solutions to parking are required.

"Equality for those with disabilities is vital.

"Shop-mobility is one of the potential solutions but this may not meet the needs of those with disabilities.

"A petition in this instance will bring attention to the need for disabled parking. I hope it will really bring the community together."

Millie said she plans to hand the petition to SODC at a date to be decided.

The Guardian previously reported Station Road residents also collected a petition of more than 1,200 signatures against the bus route.

Council approves £10million boost for homeless families

OXFORD City Council has approved a £10million deal to buy houses for homeless families in the city.

The decision will see the council invest £5m - and another £5m will be matched by social enterprise company Resonance Ltd - to buy around 50 one and two bedroom houses in and near Oxford.

The scheme was approved by the council's executive board last Thursday and will be the first of its kind outside London.

Executive board member for housing, Scott Seamons, said: "With rising rents and cuts to in-work benefits it is becoming harder and harder to meet the council's statutory requirement to house families who are homeless in Oxford.

"In order to meet the needs of those families more cost effectively we are investing in a property fund, which will allow us to house them in locations that are near the city."

Oxford City Council will now enter a partnership with Cornwall-based Resonance and London-based homelessness charity St Mungo's Broadway - which will manage the properties.

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

As of May this year there were 938 people receiving financial support through the council's 'Home Choice Scheme' after becoming homeless.

There are 113 households in temporary accommodation in Oxford - which includes bed and breakfasts and private rented accommodation.

The 50 families benefitting from the scheme will be offered rents in line with Local Housing Allowance rates of £834.08 a month.

Average two-bedroom house price per month in Oxford currently sits at £1,091.

Resonance managing director Daniel Brewer said: "We look forward to talking with council officers in more detail about potential next steps in the Oxford area."

• Executive board member for housing, Cllr Scott Seamons

Housing homeless families with private landlords costs the council around £620,000 per year.

Bed and breakfasts are the most expensive provision – costing £350 to £500 per week.

The council is hoping to make an investment return through rent of around 3 per cent, £150,000.

Names released after four deaths in 24 hours on roads

THE names of the four people who died in three separate incidents on Monday and Tuesday last week have been released.

Oxfordshire Coroner Darren Salter opened inquests into their deaths at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road on Tuesday.

Claire Caldwell, 43, of Oak Caravan Park, Fyfield Wick died last Monday from multiple injuries after the car she was in collided with a tree.

Mr Salter said: "The vehicle appears to have travelled across the carriageway and collided with a tree."

The car heading from Drayton towards Sutton Courtenay just after 3.10pm when the incident happened and Ms Caldwell was confirmed dead at 3.35pm.

A 27-year-old man was also taken to hospital with serious injuries after the crash.

An inquest into her death was opened and postphoned until January 26.

Alexander Green, 29, from Stratford-upon-Avon in Warwickshire and Mark Smith, 33, from Tonbridge in Kent died on the M40 while travelling southbound through Oxfordshire between junctions ten and nine last Monday.

The coroner gave the cause of death for the two men as multiple injuries, smoke inhalation and burning.

The incident happened at 8.45pm and a full inquest into their deaths is due to be held on January 14.

The men were in the same car and died at the scene.

The third incident was a four vehicle collision on the A420 near Faringdon on Tuesday.

David Wakefield, 71, from Aldbourne in Wiltshire, died after the crash.

A cause of death was given as multiple injuries.

A full inquest is to be held on January 21.

£2.5m renovation for pet rehoming centre

A PET rehoming centre is set for a £2.5 million revamp to update its facilities.

Work on the Blue Cross centre in Burford is due to begin at the end of the year and will include new kennels, new vetinary facilities and a refurbished reception area.

The centre in Shilton Road is now appealing to animal lovers across Oxfordshire to help them raise £1.5m towards the renovations.

Centre manager Jenna Martyn, said: "Our current facilities are out of date, but our new and improved centre will offer a much nicer place for homeless and abandoned pets to stay while they wait for new homes.

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"The designs of the new kennels and cattery will minimise risk of disease and reduce stress, so the animals that come through our doors can find homes much quicker."

Blue Cross in Burford opened in 1990 and last year helped over 900 animals but are hoping improvements will allow them to double this number.

The charity opened the world's first animal hospital in Victoria, London, in 1906.

They now run 12 centres and four animal hospitals across the UK in Oxfordshire, Wiltshire, Gloucestershire, Warwickshire and Northamptonshire.

Ms Martyn added: "Blue Cross is totally reliant on public support so we really hope the people of Oxfordshire will be able support us."

The centre is currently caring for five five-week-old kittens who arrived just days old after their mum was killed by a car.

They have since been adopted by another cat at the centre.

The kittens will be ready to be rehomed at nine weeks old.

Ms Martyn said: "Kitten's like Johnny, Pepper, Rita and Penny will really benefit from the new facilities once they are built."

Oxford man imprisoned for sexual activity with a child

AN OXFORD man has been jailed for five years and four months for sexual activity with a child.

Eugenio Layku, 35, of Cowley Road, pleaded guilty to sexual activity with a child under 16 at Oxford Crown Court on Monday.

He was also placed on the sex offenders register for life and a second charge of child abduction was allowed to lie on file.

The offence was on February 5 this year with a girl under 16 in a flat in Cowley Road.

He was arrested on February 5 after the victim told police and charged on February 7.

Investigating officer, Detective Constable Peter Warne, from Force CID at St Aldate's Police Station, said: "Layku did not plead guilty until the first day of his trial, which meant his young victim had to face the prospect of giving evidence in court.

"However she was then spared from having to endure cross-examination and the Judge took this into consideration, reducing the sentence from six years."

Community centre set for £1.5m works

OXFORD City Council announced this week it will undertake a £200,000 'feasibility study' to find a way to raise £1.5million for improvements to the East Oxford Community Centre.

The council is set to take over the management of the Princes Street centre from September.

Plans for raising the money could include the sale of the Film Oxford and East Oxford Games Hall sites.

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The council's executive board member for communities and culture, Christine Simm, said: "Community groups, centre users and local people will help shape those plans and everyone will be fully consulted on any detailed proposals, but we need to see whether or not the scheme is feasible and how it could look first."

The East Oxford Community Association, who currently run the site, were given a year's notice to vacate the site after the council said they were unhappy with the way it was being run.

The city council will now take control of the site from September 1.

Cllr Simm added: "There has been long standing concern about how the centre was managed.

"A plan was drawn up by the council and the trustees of the association but they were not met."

Independent architects will carry out the feasibility study and are set to be appointed later this month.

Cllr Simm said the £200,000 study aims to evaluate the three sites of the community centre, Film Oxford in Catherine Street and East Oxford Games Hall in Collins Street.

She added: "The study will consider the different organisations that need to be accommodated on the site and come up with proposals for how we can move forward

"This could possibly involve the sale of the Film Oxford and East Oxford Games Hall Sites."

Protestors gathered outside the community centre in July last year in an attempt to stop the council from taking it over.

Cllr Simm said the council would continue to support all of the groups and staff at the community centre. She added: "The community centre is here for everyone to enjoy, and to join in. None of that will change."

Handbag theft

CARTERTON: A 56-year-old woman had her purse stolen from her handbag after offering a lift to a man and woman in Witney Road between Curbridge and Brize Norton.

The incident occurred at approximately 7.25pm on July 28.

The two people got into the back of the car, and during the journey to Carterton the man put his hand into the victim's handbag, which was on the back seat.

The victim only realised her purse was missing after dropping the pair off at Trefoil Way.

The pair then ran off in the direction of Sorrell Way.

Council change pavilion plans after residents' plea

RESIDENTS in Headington have managed to get Oxford City Council to amend plans for a new pavilion at the Quarry Recreation Ground.

The city council was planning to knock down the current building and construct a new pavilion with changing rooms, toilets and store rooms, along with a community space and kitchen as part of its city-wide pavilion modernisation project.

A public consultation for the plans took place in March and April and responses led to the city council agreeing to move the proposed new pavilion back to the site of the existing one.

The new pavilion was going to be moved elsewhere in the recreation ground but residents were opposed to this change.

Quarry Rovers FC use the current pavilion, and a statement from club secretary Nigel Boulter said: "We support building on the same basic footprint to avoid using any additional green space.

"We continue to work with the council to provide a workable proposal that meets the needs of the club and the local community."

The council also reduced planned parking spaces from 28 to five.

A formal planning application for the pavilion will be submitted to the council in the autumn.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Cost of crime

OXON: Rural crime in Oxfordshire rose from 17 per cent last year costing the county over three quarters of a million pounds, according to statistics.

The figures by NFU Mutual, found tools, garden equipment and machinery are targeted by thieves in the county.

NFU Mutual agent Bethany Filmer said: "It's disappointing to see levels of rural crime increasing in Oxfordshire."

Cyclist killed

OXON: A 23-year-old cyclist has died after sustaining fatal injuries in a collision on the M40 last month.

The man, from Egham in Surrey, died at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Headington on July 22.

He was injured at around 3.50am on July 13 in a collision with a white Mercedes HGV when cycling southbound between junctions 8 and 7.

Terminally ill toddler in remission for second time

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

THE two-year-old daughter of a Wheatley dad has become a medical marvel after being the first patient at Great Ormond Street Hospital in London to go into remission twice after being diagnosed with a terminal illness.

Arun Kumar's daughter Elsie, was diagnosed with myeloid leukaemia in Down's syndrome last October.

She was treated with chemotherapy for the condition last year, before relapsing this June.

Elsie's parents Arun, 41, and wife Helen, 43, were told she needs a blood stem cell donation to survive and the couple launched an appeal last month through cancer charity, Delete Blood Cancer, to find a blood stem cell donor for her.

However, they were recently boosted by the news on July 23 that she has gone into remission for the second time, which is considered extremely rare by her doctors.

Arun told the Guardian: "The news was a massive step forward, although we still need to find a donor and time is definitely of the essence."

• Elsie, two, with parents Arun and Helen Kumar

Despite going into remission, Elsie was dosed with another round of chemotherapy last Friday.

Arun added: "We hope it's the last one. Elsie's doing really well and her doctors are so impressed by how well's she's coping with it. An adult could not deal with this much chemotherapy."

Elsie is an only child so does not have a sibling who could have a matching tissue-type.

Around 5,000 donors have signed up to register to see if they are a match for Elsie, with chances that one or two of them could be the donor she needs.

Her mixed England and Indian heritage makes it harder for a matching donor to be found.

Her condition is so rare that only one of its' kind is recorded at University College Hospital in London a year.

Arun said: "There's still a mountain for us to climb but it is so humbling that people are taking the time to register and help us out. It means the world to us."

Town plans in the pipeline

THERE has been a lot of discussion in Wallingford recently about what facilities we need for the town, and how we want our town centre to develop.

And there has been huge disappointment Morrisons have definitely pulled out of their plan to build a new supermarket at the Hithercroft: the vast majority of people in the town were very keen to get an alternative place to do their weekly food and grocery shop as Waitrose is not for everyone.

We are still hopeful a supermarket company will see the potential and we will get a shop there, but we will have to wait and see who buys the site and what they want to do with it.

We've also had some very public discussion about the future of the Regal Centre.

While it is not the smartest building in town, the town council is working on how to improve it, and it does offer a large and flexible space where lots of activities – particularly markets – can take place.

While a redevelopment of that part of the centre of Wallingford is much needed, the council's efforts to interest the other landowners with a stake in the site have not come to anything over the past 10 years, so we are going to get on with what we need to do at the Regal.

The really important thing about both of these discussions is that so many people care passionately about the future of Wallingford.

We'll be getting on with developing a Neighbourhood Plan soon, and we hope to harness all that interest and energy to make it a really thorough and workable document that really sets the template for our future.

Cecil's death sparks worldwide outrage

FEARS that a second lion being studied by Oxford researchers had been killed by hunters in Zimbabewe were quashed on Sunday - days after the death of Cecil the lion sparked outrage across the world.

The director of Oxford University's Wildlife Conservation Research Unit, David Macdonald, nullified the rumours after a team of researchers found 11-year-old Jericho alive and well on Sunday eating a giraffe kill with lionesses from his pride.

Reports that Jericho was killed by hunters arose over the weekend, but park wardens now believe it was a different lion.

• Jericho the lion (picture by WildCRU/Brent StapelKamp)

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Johnny Rodrigues, chairman of the Zimbabwe Conservation Task Force, said: "Apparently, an illegal hunt did take place [on Saturday] and a lion was allegedly killed but it wasn't Jericho.

"It was a case of mistaken identity."

WildCRU has also found itself under fire this week after reports that allegedly 'sustainable hunting' organisations have donated.

Prof Macdonald responded: "Donors have no influence on our research, whether their own views are for or against any particular issue."

Jericho's comrade Cecil was allegedly shot by an American dentist last month who lured him out of Hwange National Park using a dead animal with the help of hunters operating without the correct licenses.

The much-loved lion's fate sparked a surge in donations to the Oxford research unit WildCRU - which has a base in Hwange National Park and studies human-wildlife conflict with the aim of conserving lion populations.

The Cecil Appeal has so far raised more than £500,000 - enough to fund the lion project for over three years.

Professor Macdonald said: "Cecil was a glorious male lion, with a fascinating family history as he maintained a large pride.

"Just a few months ago we were thrilled to watch him at close quarters in the field, and so his seemingly illegal death is heartbreaking.

"Our goal is to learn from it. Good can come from this if the world's attention can lead to support for our work to improve lion conservation – helping us buy satellite collars, maintain our field vehicles and train excellent young Zimbabwean conservationists."

Support has come from around the world, with American comedian Jimmy Kimmel encouraging millions of listeners to donate.

American philanthropists Tom Kaplan and wife Daphne also pledged last week to donate $100,000 to WildCRU.

• Cecil with a lioness (picture by WildCRU/Brent StapelKamp)

Cecil had been fitted with a satellite collar for the Oxford team to study his movements since November 2008.

The collar was put on Cecil by co-founder of the lion project Dr Andrew Loveridge, a senior research fellow with WildCRU at Oxford University.

He said: "Poaching is a huge problem in African parks, although Hwange is probably less affected by poaching than other parks in Africa."

WildCRU is working closely with National Parks authorities in Zimbabwe to prosecute those responsible for Cecil's death.

WildCRU's lion conservation project costs £150,000-a-year to run; including £1,500 for each satellite collar.

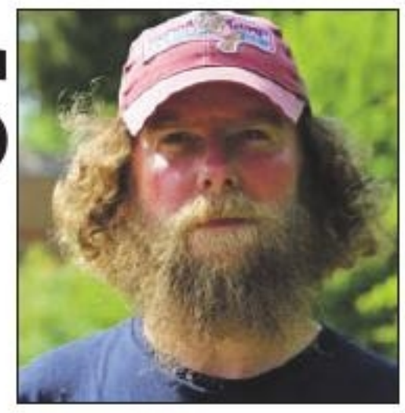
Forrest runs Oxford half



OXFORDSHIRE'S own Forrest Gump will be running the Oxford Half Marathon and is encouraging others to run with him.

Ewan Gordon ran 42 consecutive marathons in June dressed as the much-loved marathon man and film character Forrest Gump.

Ewan, 43, from Bicester will now run the half marathon on October 11 to raise money for Helen and Douglas House.

Civil servant Mr Gordon said: "I run for Helen and Douglas House because they cared for my little friend Thomas Laurie.

"Thomas died of cockayne syndrome last February and now he lends me his wings, which help me run like the wind blows."

Mr Gordon's most recent fundraising escapade saw him run 1,050 miles dressed as Tom Hanks' famous film character Forrest Gump.

He took on the superhuman challenge over 42 days in memory of Thomas who died in February 2014 of cockayne syndrome, aged 9.

Mr Gordon raised over £10,000 during his last challenge.

Thomas died in Helen and Douglas House and since then it has been Mr Gordon's goal to raise money for the charity.

By Alexander Ballinger
alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Cockayne syndrome is a rare neurodegenerative disorder that causes premature aging and photosensitivity.

Children and young people's hospice Helen and Douglas House, based in Magdalen Road, is one of the charities supported by the Oxford Half Marathon.

Senior fundraiser at the hospice, Poppy Hanbury, said: "We are hoping to get over 200 people running in the Helen and Douglas House team raising approximately £20,000.

"This could pay for a specialist nurse in both hospice houses for a day and a half."

Mr Gordon first dressed as Forrest Gump as part of a £100 bet.

Vets sign up to fight dogs' Lyme Disease

OXFORDSHIRE vets are coming together to join a university project to tackle the spread of Lyme disease through blood sucking ticks on dogs in the area.

TV presenter Chris Packham and the University of Bristol launched the Big Tick Project earlier this Spring to tackle the rise of the tick population.

Since the project was launched, a number of Oxfordshire vet practices have signed on to the project which has involved the practices providing advice to local dog owners and taking count of the tick population for the project.

Martha Harris of Cholsey's Larkmead Vet Group said: "We joined the practice up with this project to educate people as it is such a serious issue and we've got to be pro-active in combating the spread of these diseases early on."

The ticks will be collected and then sent to Bristol University laboratories to help advance the knowledge of tick-born diseases.

Mr Packham said on the challenge: "The university's research suggests that ticks are a growing problem. I feel that dog owners need to have the best advice and treatment available and they need to get this by talking to their vet."

Police warning

OXON: Police have urged caution for North Oxfordshire residents after they revealed that Nitrous Oxide, known by its street name 'hippy crack' is becoming more popular in the area.

The drug isn't classified but it's known to have fatal side effects, which were shown last month when an 18-year-old South London man died after combining the drug with alcohol.

Police Sergeant Becky Fishwick from Banbury Police Station, said: "We have seen an increased use of Nitrous Oxide gas by the teenagers and the young adults in the rural community."

Prolonged use of the drug is found to have caused significant loss of vitamin B12 and can cause brain and nerve damage.

Fire escape

BICESTER: A family of five braved a lucky escape after a serious fire in the bedroom of their home last Wednesday.

Oxfordshire County Council Fire and Rescue Service fire engines from Bicester, Kidlington and Oxford attended the scene in which two adults and three children managed to escape the property before firefighters arrived.

The family were treated at the scene by paramedics for minor burns and smoke inhalation.

Girl Guides gather in their hundreds

ABOUT 500 schoolgirls from across Oxfordshire and beyond proved Girlguiding spirit is as strong as ever as they camped out near Faringdon last week.

Quest is a countywide Girl Guide gathering that takes place every five years – this year with a carnival theme.

The camp saw 500 girls and 200 leaders take over St Hugh's School in Carswell Manor from July 26 until Friday.

Katie Paxton-Doggett, spokesperson for the Vale of White Horse Girl Guides division, said: "It's just phenomenal. There's such an amazing sense of community here.

"I've met so many people over the week."

Girl Guides are aged between 10 to 14.

After reaching 14 they move into next phase - called Senior Section.

Campers took part in drumming, zorbing, arts and crafts, circus activities, magic shows and sports during the week.

Oxfordshire's Guides were also joined by Girl Guides from America and Mexico.

The Oxfordshire Trefoil Guild – a group for older guides – started preparing 1,000 sandwiches every day at 6am to fuel the girls for their activities.

Maureen Arnold, chairman of the Trefoil Guild said: " I've been a guide for over 40 years.

"This week we're here to help the girls but also to have fun ourselves.

"We still get to do some the activities."

Girl Guide royalty also made an appearance as Chief Guide Gill Slocombe - the most senior guide in the country – attended to give two guides their Queen's Guide Award.

Louise Goyder, 26, was one of the girls receiving the award – the highest award you can achieve in guiding.

Ms Goyder, A secondary school teacher, said: "You have to complete certain tasks over two years."

Scouts fly to Japan camp-out

A group of Oxfordshire Scouts have joined 30,000 Scouts from around the world for the 23rd Scout Jamboree in Japan.

Around 40 are attending the event in Kirarhama near Yamaguchi City alongside groups from over 200 countries.

They had to raise £3,000 for a place, with part of the money going to Scouts in developing countries.

Mike Suggate, 25, from Abingdon is an Oxfordshire unit leader.

He said: "The jamboree is a brilliant experience for the Scouts."

The Scouts will take part in hundreds of activities focused on cultures, environment, sustainable development and global issues.

The Jamboree started on July 28 and will continue until Saturday.

Two new defibrillators for the Leys

BLACKBIRD Leys parish councillors have approved plans to install two life-saving defibrillators.

Councillors unanimously agreed the plans at a council meeting last Tuesday.

The defibrillators will be installed at Blackbird Leys Community Centre in Blackbird Leys Road and Catalyst Housing in Nightingale Avenue.

A 'Community Infrastructure Levy Grant' from Oxford City Council funded the £1,350 for the equipment last year.

Blackbird Leys Parish Council clerk, Nicky Clargo, said: "The councillors have really pushed this through.We all thought it would be great to have them in the area for residents.

"They will be of big benefit and help increase the number of public defibrillators available for the public in Oxford as a whole."

They will be housed in yellow cabinets, accessed via a special code given to people by calling the emergency services - which will direct them to the nearest defibrillator.

They can help save lives of anyone undergoing a cardiac arrest and are designed for anyone to use, with instructions provided in the box.

WIN tickets to Memphis in London's West End

EVERY night audiences are singing and dancing their way out of Memphis, the Olivier Award-winning smash-hit that's taken the roof off the West End, and you could have a chance to join them courtesy of this week's fantastic competition.

Voted by theatregoers as Best New Musical at the 2015 WhatsOnStage Awards, its explosive blend of electrifying music and breathtaking energy has made it the show everyone's raving about.

Join radio DJ Huey Calhoun, played by X Factor winner Matt Cardle, who dreams of changing the world, and club singer Felicia Farrell, played by Queen of British Soul Beverley Knight, who's ready for her big break, as they join unlikely forces to take the hip-shaking sounds of soul and rock 'n' roll from the underground clubs of Memphis to the kids right across America. A hilarious, moving and exhilarating tale of fame, forbidden love and incredible music is inspired by the true events of 1950s Tennessee, where change was in the air and revolution was on the airwaves.

Closing date:
Friday, August 14

Memphis dazzles with original songs by Grammy winner and Bon Jovi founder David Bryan. Book now to see the show at London's Shaftesbury Theatre and find out why everyone's going crazy in Memphis! Find out more at www.memphisthemusical.com

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Bisson's Rhythm & Blues

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

CANADIAN soul is making it's way to Oxford's Jericho Tavern with the Andre Bisson Rhythm & Blues Experience.

Described as the new Michael Bublé by critics, Ontario's Andre Bisson visits Walton Street for the first time on Monday, August 10, after a successful tour in his native country.

His Jericho Tavern stopover will be the third show in a tour across the UK.

And Andre believes being compared to fellow Canadian Bublé only spurs him on.

"It's always an honour to be compared to someone who is a well-respected musician as I'm a fan of Bublé's music, especially his writing and arranging style," Andre told the Guardian.

"Michael Buble has been able to bring back a genre of music from the past to a new audience.

"This is something I hope to accomplish with my style of music."

After discovering his dad's Elvis Presley records at the age of 15, Andre's life changed.

And on finding a Sears guitar under the bed in his parents' bedroom, Andre taught himself the chords to some of his favourite songs.

Fast-track a few years later and he was playing in various bands before listening to songs recorded by soul group The Commitments, which he described as a 'turning point.'

Since then, Andre has been performing music with a heavy soul influence.

The Andre Bisson Rhythm & Blues Experience consists of Andre on guitar and vocals, Loretta Hale on the trumpet, Kevin Matthews on the alto saxaphone, Marie McNally on tenor saxophone, Mike Rowell on bass and Chris Downton on drums.

Andre said he heard of the Jericho Tavern during his first UK tour in 2012 so it's a 'real thrill' to finally get a chance to play there.

He added: "Canada is such a vast land and although it is what I love about the country, the distance from venues can be a bit long at times.

"In the UK, the majority of the venues are closer together, which allows us to cover more cities and reach more people in a short period of time.

"Overall, audiences in Canada and the UK are equally fantastic as both provide great support and respect for the musicians which is all a performer can ask for."

The 8pm show costs £12.

The Jamie Felton Show

WE spoke to Jamie Felton in December as he was gearing up for a New Year's Eve pub gig.

And he's since won Banbury's Got Talent, securing the stage of the town's Mill Arts Centre for himself - as the winner's prize for his first big show on Saturday, August 15.

The 17-year-old Ardley teenager describes next Saturday's gig as 'the biggest thing I've done in music'.

Jamie claimed the top spot at the talent show in March on the same stage.

But the nervous yet excited teenager will not be on stage solo at the Spiceball Park venue, backed by a trusty band of school friends.

"It's my first proper show," Jamie told the Guardian.

"It will certainly be different to the more relaxed approach at normal gigs, but this is the type of professionalism I'm keen to obtain.

"I believe the music industry is the hardest industry to be successful in, as you can be the best singer on the planet but not be successful because it's 'right place, right time' to be spotted."

But far from leaving it to chance, Jamie is signed up to put in the hard graft at the Academy of Contemporary Music in Guildford.

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Split into two sets, the first half of the gig will see Jamie playing well known hits scattered with self-written tracks.

He will also play duets with Banbury's Got Talent runners up Marley and D and Erin Tiger Lilley.

During the second half classic rock anthems will drum up the atmosphere, alongside another duet - this time with singer-songwriter Maddison Desborough, who was another contestant on this year's Banbury's Got Talent.

"I couldn't believe it when the host read my name out as the winner and I'm so excited to give the best show I can give," Jamie said.

"All the staff at The Mill are so friendly too which brings a welcoming atmosphere so to perform on that stage again, so I really can't wait."

The up and coming star has recorded three albums, and just released his new single, 'Believe in Yourself'.

Tickets cost £10 with the show starting at 8pm.

The Amazons at D-Fest

DRAYTON is getting into the swing of summer music festivals with D-Fest this Saturday, August 8.

It is a chance for up and coming musicians and bands to showcase their material for a chance to make their name in the industry.

Among the eight acts performing at Lockway is alternative rock group The Amazons.

The four-strong Reading band is headlining the festival before embarking on their first UK tour this autumn - which includes a stop at Oxford's 02 Academy in September.

As a band they are used to the odd smaller show.

"Driving up to Sunderland on a Thursday night to play to two people is soul destroying, but it's part of a band's education and makes the bigger shows more valuable", Chris Alderton told the Guardian.

"However, if you disregard those shows you don't feel like you earn the big ones and you might just pick up two new fans if you do it."

The band formed a year and a half ago with bassist Elliot Briggs, guitarist Chris Alderton, Josef 'Joe' Emmett on the drums and Matt Thomson as the vocalist.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Their energetic shows have caught the ear of many alternative rock fans.

"People can expect a lot of energy and ringing in their ears for years to come," Chris added.

"And sweat. Expect a lot of sweat, which mainly comes from our drummer Joe."

The Amazons released their first single, 'Junk Food Forever' in May under their own record label Goth Cruise Records and plan to release a follow up track in October.

And the work has begun to pay off, with people recognising their songs during bar gigs.

"For the first time we had people screaming the words back at us," Chris said.

"The best thing about performing is making sure we give people a show that makes them want to come back and see us."

And what's the story in the name?

"We went through lots of names and played a few shows to see if they were the right fit but The Amazons felt like the right name - mainly because we want to feel we're a tribe that people can join if they like what they hear."

The free mini music festival, which is now in its sixth year, starts at 2pm until late.

• The Amazons are headlining Drayton's D-Fest (from left to right) bassist Elliot Briggs, guitarist Chris Alderton, drummer Josef 'Joe' Emmett and singer Matt Thomson

Will.i.am and Lexus indulge in laser light and sound show

• Musician Will.i.am with the Lexus NX

MUSIC, art and technology have been fused together in Will.i.am's remix of his hit track #thatPOWER for Lexus' 'Amazing in Motion' campaign.

By James Richings

It was created by the musician using hundreds of motion and sound-sensitive lights, lasers, and three Lexus NX crossovers driven by a team of top stunt drivers.

Captured in a video released last week, Will.i.am takes on the role of front man, battling against speed and rhythm to navigate the Lexus NX by hitting a sequence of laser targets.

"Working with the stunt guys to hit the laser targets in time with the music wasn't easy to get right but the result was awesome", Will.i.am said.

"The combination of technology, design and music in this project was out of this world."

The exploit was shot on July 21 this year on a disused airstrip in Spain.

The stunt team included Niki Faulkner, whose movie credits include the 2013 biographical sports drama film 'Rush', about James Hunt winning the 1976 Formula 1 Championship.

The lighting and laser rig was styled by a team of 65 technicians from Marshmallow Laser Feast (MLF), famous for working with some of the world's leading bands including the likes of U2 and Coldplay, and took more than a week to install.

MLF's creative director Barnaby Steel said: "We've created a huge musical game with three stunt drivers as the players and Will.i.am as the conductor.

"Music is brought to life when the cars hit beams of light that are motion sensitive at the correct time and rhythm, so it's basically like a giant laser harp with cars instead of fingers."

Barnaby added: "The challenge for Will.i.am and the drivers was to navigate the light points on tempo.

"When they fell off beat and triggered notes off tempo, the system had to restart."

Alain Uyttenhoven, head of Lexus Europe, added: "We're projecting that the NX will represent one third of all Lexus sales across Europe this year, so it feels right that we've created something as bold as this event with Will.i.am – something that truly embodies our brand philosophy of Amazing in Motion."

The Lexus NX, introduced last autumn, marks Lexus' entry into the mid-size premium crossover market.

The range includes the full hybrid NX 300h and the NX 200t, powered by Lexus's new 2.0-litre turbocharged petrol engine.

The video has been viewed over 300,000 times since July 30, at youtube.com/watch?v=iyTFhbmU1p0.

It's full of clever ideas like the protective side airbumps and instead of the usual cluttered dash, there's a simple 7" touchscreen with built-in reversing camera.† We think it looks pretty cool too, but that's just what happens when you do things out of the ordinary.

United 'ready' for Red Devils

AFTER three months out, Oxford United are set to return to the Kassam Stadium on Saturday to kick off the Sky Bet League Two season against Crawley Town.

The match promises to be a solid assessment of United's character for the season with the hope that come next May, The U's will be basking in the glow near the top of the table.

Pre-season has given fans hope that Michael Appleton's men can truly cause a stir from the beginning and challenge for those promotion spots early on.

Appleton said after his side's 0-0 draw against Coventry City last Saturday: "I think we're ready.

"In possession, out of possession, I thought there was an intensity and purpose about them and I think we look ready for the season now."

The U's were unlucky not to snatch a result against The Sky Blues in the final pre-season game, hitting the woodwork four times and providing a stern test for the League One side.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Appleton added: "I think the credit goes to our players for the way they went about their business. The way we went about things today was really pleasing for me."

Appleton has seen plenty to admire from his squad in the run-up to the big kick-off, with winger Alex Macdonald looking lively throughout the last few months and striker Patrick Hoban hoping to push for a first-team place.

United have recruited well this summer, with the stand-out signings of Kemar Roofe from West Bromwich Albion and Exeter City's Liam Sercombe proving to create a big buzz among the fans.

The U's have also seen club custodian 'keeper Ryan Clarke depart for Northampton Town and right-back Andrew Whing retire over the summer.

However, the recapture of George Baldock from MK Dons on a season-long loan and the capture of Sam Slocombe from Scunthorpe United has seen the United defence refortified and has looked impressive in pre-season.

Crawley Town will no doubt prove a stern test come 3pm on Saturday afternoon, but if United secure a good result, then it could be onwards and upwards for the Yellows in what promises to be a definitive season for Appleton's tenure.

Skolars teach the Blues a hard lesson

AN alarming dip in form continued for Oxford RL as they fell to their fifth defeat in a row against the London Skolars on Sunday.

Oxford's Andy Speake returned from an injury lay-off and Steve Scott was replaced with Charlie Green but The Blues simply couldn't get their game going.

The Skolars got the ball rolling after Kazeem Faturoti was allowed to break through the defence after six minutes. Mike Bishay converted.

Skolars' captain David Williams was then allowed to barge through, on two separate occasions before Matt Cook dived over.

Billy Driver added to Oxford woes, with three of the four conversion attempts made and Oxford 28-0 down at half time.

Will Lovell managed to give Skolars more breathing distance just after the break down Oxford's right side.

Josh Nathaniel finally managed to secure Oxford some points on the board to put the score at 32-6.

Danny Thomas then managed to give Oxford their second of the day with Louis Richard kicking both conversions.

Bishay clambered through the Oxford defence after being fed by Lamont Bryan and John Paxton completed the route with a try for a final score of 42-12.

Didcot star secures double-win at PF International meeting

DIDCOT karting star Elliot Harvey showed off his impressive skills with a double win in his preparations for the 2015 Kart Masters at the PF International in Lincolnshire.

Harvey, 13, said: "It was overall a good weekend despite some hard moments. My aim was to get a good starting position for the final and I was pleased to finish on the podium."

Harvey's work in the first heat was evident, after he qualified second and despite a slight power disadvantage, was able to finish in his starting qualifying position.

He started the second heat in the same position and was able to make a good start but suffered various issues on the track as he was being caught out on the turns and finished 17th in the race.

The third heat saw Harvey qualify in third and after a solid start, found himself in second.

He was bunched down to third but after waiting for the leaders in front to make a mistake, he took his opportunity when they had a coming together and swooped in front to get a win and secured his second win of the day in the fourth heat.

The pre-final saw Harvey start the race in 6th and after some quick thinking and strong driving, he drove himself to fourth.

The final race saw Harvey compete well and after starting on the gird in third he managed to maintain his starting place to the finish despite spending a majority of the race in 2nd to cap off a solid performance.

Didcot Town 2015/16 season preview talk

AHEAD of the new Southern League Division One South and West season, sports reporter Loughlan Campbell looks at where Didcot are aiming to finish come next May...

By Loughlan Campbell

DIDCOT Town is a team in flux. Last season held many positives and saw the fans spur The Diddy in a bid to reach the play-offs.

However, after falling short in the last few weeks of the season, the time came for recuperation, a chance to relax and refresh the batteries before another season could kick into gear for the lads.

For joint-managers, Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy, the summer gave them a chance to re-evaluate their aims for the squad and see what was required to get their side over the line and into the Southern League Premier.

Didcot weren't lacking the goals or the spirit; it was just a question of holding their nerve over the course of the season and with John Mills firing on all cylinders, their front line looked formidable.

Although Didcot were then hit by a summer transfer stand-off with Mills, which is believed to have been about money, leading to the striker's untimely departure to Hereford FC at the end of last month.

Mills' 57 goals are sure to be missed and the news that Pablo Haysham had also joined him in departing the club for Hereford came as an even bigger blow for fans.

However, Concannon's confident that the signing of Ex-North Leigh striker Conor McDonagh could prove to be the difference and be the star the side turn to for those winning goals.

McDonagh has been impressive in in pre-season and is expected to help the squad adjust to Mills and Haysham's departures by knocking the ball in the net on a weekly basis.

Mills' departure will continue to be hard to take for Diddy fans, however, from the look of the side in pre-season training, it looks like he could be forgotten soon enough.

Bookmakers have Didcot pegged in for a promotion push, which may even result in a title challenge, but the club are not addressing these odds, instead they are focusing on pulling things together for which promises to be an unforgettable season at the Loop Meadow Stadium.

Chapman looking to put his past struggles behind in Norfolk race

OXFORD'S Ginetta Junior Championship star Matt Chapman is 'raring to go' as the 2015 season resumes at Snetterton 300 Circuit in Norfolk this weekend.

The Total Control Racing driver has been on a summer break for five weeks and has had to suffer some difficult results this season after dealing with misfortune over the season's first five race meetings.

Chapman commented ahead of the meeting: "We're going in to the second half of this season properly aiming for a fresh start.

"We had so much bad luck during the first part of the Championship but hopefully we can put all that behind us.

"All year we've had the pace to challenge in the top six and to fight for the podium, but for one reason and another it just hasn't worked out for us."

The 15-year-old is currently 12th in the championship and the teenager's biggest target is to qualify strongly at Snetterton to ensure a solid race finish.

Qualifying has been the teenager's biggest problem with the teenager's best result of the campaign coming in the opening weekend in a seventh place finish.

Chapman added: "Qualifying is the most important thing to focus on and get right next weekend, I know the team will give me a great car and hopefully we can avoid any problems.

Solihull beat City with 4-1 win ahead of new season

OXFORD City's preparations for their new season in the Conference South this weekend at home to Chelmsford City suffered a setback as they were swept aside 4-1 by Solihull Moors last Saturday.

A goal from Bradley Bubb wasn't enough for City as a brace from The Moors' Andy Brown and goals from Liam Daly and Darryl Knights saw Oxford well beaten at the Automated Technology Group Stadium.

Solihull took the lead when Stefan Moore set up Brown to stroke the ball into the right hand corner just after fifteen minutes.

Knights provided a swinging ball into the cross shortly afterwards for Daly to beat his man in the air and add Solihull's second of the game.

Oxford striker Bubb then got himself on the score sheet against the run of play with a thumping drive.

However, Brown's second gave Solihull the upper edge heading into the break with a delicate dink into the corner from Michael Nottingham's cross.

After the second-half, Solihull continued their attacking game but were unable to covert their dominance into a fourth goal.

With just over ten minutes to go, Moore fed Knights the ball and he provided a delicious chop over keeper' Laurie Walker into the Oxford net.

Oxford will be hoping they are better at containing Chelmsford in what promises to be a firework encounter at Marsh Lane on Saturday afternoon.

Didcot 'pumped' for new season after 'great' pre-season

CONCANNON UNHAPPY WITH REF AFTER RED CARD IN 0-0 STALEMATE

• Didcot Town captain Luke Carnell tussles with a Hungerford Town player on Saturday (picture by Roger Neal)

DIDCOT Town joint-manager Ian Concannon is 'pumped' for the new season to start after he reflected on a 'great pre-season' for his side.

Didcot Town were put to a stern test against a resolute Hungerford Town side but proved to be more than a match for the Berkshire-based side in a goalless draw on Saturday.

Chances were limited in a tight affair that saw Didcot midfielder Marvin Martin sent off for a 'rash' challenge on Hungerford's Allen Bossman with ten minutes left on the clock.

Martin appeared to have lost his head after missing two consecutive passes before making the challenge, though Concannon was unhappy with the refereeing of the decision.

Concannon told the Guardian: "The referee could have used a bit of common sense. I was disappointed with his performance.

"However, I'll admit that Marvin's challenge was a bit rash but we could be looking at a three-match ban for him now."

The result meant that the result was Didcot's third clean sheet in a row as the side have worked hard to solidify their defence.

Concannon added: "Another clean sheet is great news for us, as we were against a quality opposition and it was a great workout for the squad.

"This result will give the boys confidence, the game ticked a lot of boxes for us and our work rate across the ninety minutes was absolutely solid."

Didcot have enjoyed a relatively successful pre-season with the only knock-back coming against Oxford United in a 5-0 loss at the Loop Meadow Stadium on July 11 with the squad's biggest result coming in a 7-0 win over Abingdon United last Tuesday.

Concannon added: "Ultimately, we played really well, passed the ball well, and were probably the better team.

"I'm absolutely pumped for the new season to begin and I know that the lads will be raring to go."

Didcot Town face off against Larkhall Athletic in Bath on Saturday.

Predicted Didcot Town Starting Eleven: Bedwell, Elkins, Organ, Learoyd, Carnell, Ballard, Martin, Longford, Williams, McDonagh, Janes.
